

Ole Beier Sørensen

Ph.D. and Master of Science with 25+ years of national and international experience in research, development, policy and public affairs in pensions.

Documented successful policy- and product-development, policy analysis, policy development and reform design in Denmark as well as abroad. Particular focus on reform design, the division of responsibilities between public and private welfare, the conditions for pension excellence and balancing sustainability and adequacy concerns.

Substantial national as well as international board and advisory board experience in relevant research fields and from international organizations. Substantial experience as policy adviser and policy designer – including substantial and successful international consultancy experience.

Deep and broad insight into pension policy and pension finance issues and extensive overview over alternative approaches, the backgrounds and their advantages/disadvantages.

Extensive and successful experience in cooperating and interacting with public authorities and policymakers on the development and negotiation of pension reform and social policy issues.

Substantial and successful strategic contributions to media and public affairs efforts on relevant policy areas.

Extensive national and international network in the world of pensions spanning politics, public authorities, labour market organizations, international organizations, researchers and interest groups.

Results oriented with a strong focus on maintaining a consistent narrative, balancing contrasting concerns, balancing short to medium term and long term needs and objectives and achieving sustainable overall strategic policy objectives.

Beier Research offers research and development consultancy in a wide range of issues in pension policy and pension reform.