Matthew Arends

Matthew Arends is an actuary and Partner in Aon's Retirement Practice and leads on Aon's pensions policy. He has over 25 years' experience advising boards of corporates and trustees in relation to their DB and DC pension arrangements. Matthew is the strategic consultant and relationship manager on a portfolio of clients of a range of sizes, typically being clients who have significant pensions challenges and who look to him for his proactive approach to problem solving.

Matthew also sits on the Retirement leadership team and has responsibility for the thought leadership for the business. Matthew is a regular speaker at conferences, chairing Aon's own pension conference series, is a regular contact for journalists on pensions issues and, for example, authored "Pension Scheme De-risking - A Practical Guide" and "Collective DC – Stability and Fairness".
